

Basic Detail Report

Title: Hydrangeas

Date: 1934

Primary Maker: com.gallerysystems.emuseum.core.entities.RecordXPerson@3e6e7

Medium: Oil on canvas

Description: The post-Impressionism of Paul Cézanne influenced Kuhn when painting his series of powerful still lifes during his final decades. Generally, his flowers are outlined in black and the mass of the arrangement predominates over individual elements. Like his clowns, "Hydrangeas" conveys an overall impression of sadness, the ponderous blooms are almost too overwhelming to sustain themselves.

Dimensions: 30 1/2 x 40 in. (77.5 x 101.6 cm)